SIX JAP WARSHIPS BELIEVED DESTROYED

The War Today...

By DeWitt MacKenzie
AP War Analyst

GENERALISSIMO Chiang Kai-shek's declaration of faith in Allied victory over Japan—the outside limit for which he daringly sets at two years—is pleasing to read on this sixth anniversary of the start of the China-Japan conflict, especially coming as it does from one of the greatest leaders of our time.

However, this statement would be dangerously incomplete without the general's accompanying caution to his people that the "present marks the beginning of the greatest trials." The Allies have before them "the hardest stretch of the road to victory."

As matter of fact, while such encouragement is legitimate for the heavily burdened Chinese people, it's doubtful whether it is particularly helpful for some of China's Allies. It's likely to inspire over-confidence, as witness the complacency which has developed some parts of the United States since the Allied victory in Tunisia.

We have an echo of this self-satisfaction, I believe, in WPB Chairman Donald Nelson's statement of declines in the output of ground ordnance, miscellaneous munitions and merchant vessels, which he characterizes as "a very serious matter." Only the day before, Gen. Brenton Somervell, commanding general of the Army supply forces, reported in the magazine Mill and Factory a shocking shortage of weapons and materiel for the Army. He attributed this in part to over-confidence due to favorable news from the battle front.

THIS column has maintained that the American public could stand good news without becoming complacent. Passage of time, however, has shown whether the statement was correct. Maybe the propaganda experts who insist that it's necessary to feed the people bad news in order to keep them in fighting mood, aren't so far wrong, at least as the idea must be to most folk.

Anyway, as regards China we are telling nothing less than the cold truth when we point out that the main asset at this moment is the magnificent spirit of her people who for six years have endured suffering which would have broken many nations. This will win plus vast reaches of territory to swap with the invaders for time has enabled them to hold out.

We must recognize that China's ability to assume major offensive operations, or even withstand enemy attacks, depends on the assistance which America can give. General Chiang has comparatively few resources at his disposal, either to make war or to sustain anything like normal living conditions in the unoccupied regions.

There's no reason to doubt Chiang's view that his great country

SENATE, F. D. R. AGAIN BATTLE OVER SUBSIDY

In Dramatic About Face, Solons Vote Ban On Roll-Back Plan

LOOK FORWARD TO PRESIDENTIAL VETO

Existing Federal Aid On Meat and Butter Would Be Invalidated

BY JOHN H. WIGGINS

WASHINGTON, July 7.—In a sudden and dramatic turnabout, the senate rose up to do battle with the administration again today over the government's plan to roll back retail food prices by paying subsidies to processors.

Chances of starting a mid-summer recess by nightfall faded however as weary lawmakers of both houses went into a huddle over a bill continuing the life of the Commodity Credit corporation but blocking the subsidy program.

The conferees' task was to reconcile diametrically opposite proposals in the senate version and the house-approved bill which lifted all subsidy-rollback restrictions objected to by the administration.

Climaxing a seldom-seen demonstration of about-facing, senate opponents of the rollback voted late yesterday, over the loud lamentations of administration lieutenants, for subsidy restrictions similar to those which drew a vigorous veto from President Roosevelt only last Friday.

Only Side Issue

The bill as it went to conference would continue CCC until Jan. 1, 1944, and increase its lending authority from $2,550,000,000 to $3,000,000,000, but that was virtually a side issue.

Gone were administration-splendid provisions which would have authorized a six-months rollback expenditure up to $525,000,000 and clamped ceilings on existing subsidy payments to stimulate production of essential crops, import essential commodities, increase output of war minerals and compensate for war transportation losses.

The bill now would invalidate the present subsidy-rollback on retail prices of meats and butter. Lawmakers disagreed generally on what final form it would take after the house-senate conference committee finished with it. But most agreed on one thing: that if it retains the anti-subsidy provisions the President will veto it again.

Senator Danaher (R-Conn.) contended, however, that since a veto would act to kill CCC and its important lending activities for crop production and farm transportation, the President "surely wouldn't want to do that with congress in recess."

This was the senate's up-and-downhill route to the anti-subsidy vote.

I. Voted 32 to 31 for a provision limiting CCC expenditures for

Publishers Help OWI Draft News Coverage

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The Office of War Information, its budget cut to the bone by Congress, has asked the nation's publishers to help draw up a program of home front government news coverage that won't cost much.

Palmer Hoyt, director of the domestic bureau which asked Congress for $8,800,000 and got only $2,250,000, appointed nine prominent editors and publishers to a committee which he said "could give OWI a lot of help 'now that its field services have been abandoned.'"

Illustrating the need for such an advisory council, Hoyt said OWI henceforth would issue no printed matter directly to the public but will have to be content with working "entirely through the accepted media of information."

Child Dies of Poisoning After Fall Into Washhtub

WELLSVILLE, July 7.—Funeral service was held today for David Lee Dugan, 10-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard P. Dugan, who died from poisoning after he fell into a tub of water containing washing fluid.

Farm Accident Fatal

EAST PALESTINE, July 7.—Funeral service was held today at nearby Petersburg for Donald Hostetter, 16, son of Charles Hostetter, who died of a fractured skull after he was struck on the head by a bucket of sand being used as a balance for a hay loader.

City Council Gets Sunday Bowling Plea

City councilmen today considered the request of organized bowlers to legalize Sunday bowling in the city, following the presentation of a petition to council Tuesday night, signed by several hundred followers of the increasingly-popular sport.

Pointing out that the sport had made rapid strides since the early days when it was associated with pool rooms, spokesmen for the bowlers asked that council take the proper legislative steps necessary to eliminate the specific mention of bowling alleys in the present ordinance which prohibits the operation of pool rooms and bowling alleys on Sundays. The ordinance has been in force for many years.

In Committee's Hands

Council President C. F. Zimmerman referred the request and petition to the ordinance committee for consideration.

Ralph W. Hawley, who, with William Hull and O. A. Adams, comprised the bowlers representatives, explained that Salem is the only district city where Sunday bowling is not allowed. The bowlers' request is not one that will interfere with church services, it was pointed out, since intentions are to allow bowling after 2 p. m.

"Bowling wants the official recognition of the clean, wholesome sport that it is," Hawley declared.

For the benefit of the councilmen, he traced the development of the one-time pool room side-light attraction to the largest organized sport group in the city today. An estimated 1,000 men and women bowl regularly in organized leagues in Salem during the season. Recently a new bowling center with 14 alleys was established in the Althouse garage building.

POUNDING WAVES BREAK LAKE DIKE

Hundreds Homeless After Water Inundates Area Near Toledo

(By Associated Press)
TOLEDO, July 7.—Hundreds of families were homeless today after pounding waves crumbled an earthen dike along Lake Erie and released a flood that swept rich farm land, inundated two resort-residential areas and caused thousands of dollars damage.

Police and coast guardsmen working throughout the night evacuating scores by boat after nearly 300 homes were surrounded by water which poured through breaks in the dike at Reno beach 15 miles east of here yesterday evening.

Seventy-five homes were cut off at Reno beach when two sections of the three-mile dike gave way. One break in the 10-foot high wall was 200 feet long, the other 50 feet.

The flood quickly spread out over a lake front area four miles long and a mile wide, surrounding more than 200 homes in the Howard farms residential section two miles east of Reno beach and covering a number of fertile vegetable farms. Many of the evacuees were taken to a 500-bed Red Cross emergency center set up in a school near Reno beach. Others were sheltered by friends.

The dike, which effectively held back waves for several years, had been weakened by the incessant pounding of wind-stirred water last week, and lake front residents piled up tons of sand in bags in an effort to reinforce it. Residents of the area said a system of canals behind the dike would carry off the water after the waves subsided.

2 OHIO AVIATORS KILLED IN CRASH

(By Associated Press)
SAN MARCOS, Tex., July 7.—Five fliers from the San Marcos army airfield died when their plane crashed and burned yesterday, the public relations office announced. All were second lieutenants.

The dead: Lloyd C. Mercer, 26, pilot; San Angelo, Tex.

Clarence E. Wilkinson, navigation instructor; son of Mrs. LeVina Wilkinson, Route 6, Akron, O.

Robert J. Mockler, co-pilot, Park Falls, Wis.

Frederick E. Nolte, 21, student officer, Mount Vernon, Ind.

John J. Louzek, 25, student officer; son of Rev. and Mrs. V. J. Louzek, Lakewood, O.

The plane was returning to the field after a routine training flight.

Plan Temperance Rally

LAKESIDE, July 7.—The Youth Temperance council of the Ohio Women's Christian Temperance union will hold a state rally here July 9-11. Miss Mary B. Ervin of Columbus, Ohio W. C. T. U. president, announced today. Mrs. Bess S. Kuntz of Lepisc will be in charge of the meeting.

Destroyer Lost During Bombardment of Jap Outpost

Here is the 2,100-ton destroyer Strong, sunk by enemy torpedoes during the warship bombardment of Jap positions on New Georgia island preceding the naval engagement with the Japs in the Central Solomons. Inset is Commander Joseph H. Wellings of East Boston, Mass., who commanded the warship. The Strong, commissioned in 1942, carried a normal complement of about 250 men.

OCD Will Loan Salem New Fire Fighting Equipment

Salem will benefit from the loan of $40,000 worth of auxiliary fire fighting equipment, Fire Chief Vincent Malloy told members of city council Tuesday night.

The equipment, designed for use by the city's auxiliary fire department, will be in the form of a mutual aid allocation by the Office of Civilian Defense, in accordance with provisions of an act passed by Congress a year ago, Malloy explained.

The equipment is expected to arrive here in the near future. The

Eastern Vacation Trips Sanctioned

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The Office of Price Administration has decided to permit vacation trips in the east, where other transportation is inadequate.

Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown announced that beginning July 15, motorists in the 12 northeastern states where pleasure driving is banned, can get permits from their local boards for one round trip anywhere, as long as it can be negotiated on the driver's regular ration of coupons. Outside of these states, vacation driving to the extent of a driver's coupons has not been restricted.

The vacation grant was extended to holders of "B" and "C" ration books, but OPA emphasized that motorists must take the vacation trips on supplies obtained out of the basic "A" ration only. Thus, the motorist must certify, and satisfy his ration board, that he has sufficient gasoline purchased on "A" coupons to make the complete trip.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH RALLY IS PLANNED

LISBON, July 7.—The third annual county-wide communion service sponsored by the Columbiana County Christian Men's brotherhood, will be held at the fairgrounds Sunday, July 18. Rev. Theodore Cord, of Lisbon, chairman of the service, announced today.

The program will include the union communion service at 3 p. m. in which the Lisbon churches will unite for a union evening service.

Rev. P. H. Welshimer, pastor of the First Christian church of Canton, has been secured to bring the message at both the afternoon and evening service.

In addition to the formal services, Rev. Cord announced, an opportunity will be afforded to those attending to enjoy a basket supper at 5:30 o'clock at the fairgrounds, thus making possible the attendance at both services, of those from other communities.

Stranded Way Up

NEW YORK, July 7.—An estimated 25,000 office workers and visitors were stranded yesterday in the towering structures of Rockefeller center by a 55-minute strike of 225 elevator operators.

Some waited out the strikers, fretting and pushing elevator buttons as they did so, while others including some of the 200 persons in the RCA building's observation tower made their way downstairs on foot.

CURFEW PLANS WILL BE AIRD

City Officials and Citizens Group Will Discuss Proposed Draft Tuesday

Members of city council expect to meet next Tuesday night with a citizens committee regarding the adoption of a curfew ordinance which the citizens requested several weeks ago.

Council agreed to next week's meeting after Solicitor Henry L. Reese reported that several curfew ordinance drafts have been prepared and would be submitted to the group for final consideration.

His announcement followed the receipt of another letter from a church organization expressing hearty approval of the effort being made toward enacting a curfew ordinance to keep youngsters off the streets at night, unless accompanied by an adult.

The latest communication was from the Women's Missionary society of the First Baptist church.

Given Second Reading

Council last night gave a second reading to the ordinance relating the salaries of four elective city officials, the mayor, auditor, solicitor and treasurer.

Councilman Charles Rheuter reported the safety committee's recommendation of no parking restrictions for W. State st. between Ellsworth and Howard avenues and the west side of N. Lundy ave. between Third and Fourth streets, rather than the east side as it now stands.

Action was withheld pending investigation of several other parking problems.

Charles Cavanaugh, as chairman of the sewer committee, said council had agreed at a committee meeting to allow Hillside residents to make drainage repairs individually, rather than attempting to include a few properties into the project. The favored plan would be more economical, he declared.

A letter was read from A. P. Morris, speaking for Ridgewood drive residents and asking that the city keep the street in better condition. The city solicitor recalled that the street never has been officially dedicated and that, until such time as this is done, the city has no legal right to make any improvements.

The street has never been dedicated to the city by W. W. Luce, who financed the home allotment, Reese recalled. The city has, nevertheless, put ashes on the street from time to time.

A complaint was received from J. B. Zeigler calling attention to a catch basin hazard in front of his home, 572 N. Ellsworth ave.

Rudolph Forster, Veteran White House Aid, Dies

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Rudolph Forster, long-time executive clerk at the White House and an assistant to many presidents, was found dead in bed today at his apartment in the Wardman Park hotel. The house physician said Forster, 70 years old, apparently suffered a heart attack in his sleep.

Forster, a native of the District of Columbia, was a government stenographer when he was called to the White House in President McKinley's administration "to help out for a few days." That was March 5, 1897, and those "few days" stretched out for 46 years.

4 Other Enemy Vessels Hit, Navy Reports

Secretary Frank Knox Praises U. S. Victory In Kula Gulf Area; One American Cruiser Lost; Yanks On Rendova Island Are Reinforced

By C. YATES McDaniel

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, July 7.—A United States naval victory in the Solomons—probable sinking of six Japanese warships and damaging of four others out of a cruiser-destroyer force at a cost of one cruiser—was announced today, one week after the outbreak of the current Pacific offensive.

The triumph, recorded by guns of American ships which flashed in darkness of July 5-6 in the Kula gulf above New Georgia island, was sketched in a communique from headquarters of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Although bearing out in clearer outline an earlier announcement from the Navy in Washington that the Kula gulf battle definitely was an American victory, today's communique left many details to be filled in, including how many of the enemy ships hit were cruisers and how many destroyers. One definitely was a destroyer, blasted by 500-pound bombs of American planes after it had been beached by damage suffered in the naval engagement.

"The Japs have taken another damned good licking," Navy Secretary Frank Knox told cheering shipyard workers at Bremerton, Wash., Tuesday.

SALEM MAN'S GUN KILLS STRAY JAP

Lieut. Ellis Satterthwaite Proves Marksmanship In Brush With Enemy

By J. NORMAN LODGE

Associated Press Writer

WITH U. S. OCCUPATION FORCES ON RENDOVA ISLAND, July 1.—(Delayed)—Japanese soldiers fled so suddenly before the invading Americans on this Central Solomons island that their breakfast rice was found still boiling.

Some ran to sniper posts on stumps and in tree tops when the United States doughboys swarmed ashore yesterday in the new offensive.

The job of ferreting out the snipers continued today, and as I sat atop a coral outcropping, balancing my typewriter on my knees because of lack of a more suitable place, there was an occasional zing of a Japanese 25 caliber bullet going through the coconut trees.

No one paid much attention. Generals sat without steel helmets hardly breaking their conversations.

Major Martin F. Clements, chief of the Army's Solomons guards, and Lieut. F. A. "Snowy" Rhoads reported coming onto one kitchen where the Japanese had left their boiling rice.

Two officers and their native guards accounted for at least 25 Japanese marines in the sector of the island they invaded.

Then there was Lieut. Ellis Satterthwaite of Salem, Ohio, who, investigating a crude hut heard a noise in the doorway. He turned and saw a Japanese staring in. The young officer, the quickest on the draw, fired and the enemy soldier fell.

Satterthwaite said he didn't know who was more surprised—he or the Japanese. "I thought I would find some souvenirs inside," he said, "but I'm satisfied as it is."

Lieut. Col. David M. Ross of Berea, Ky., was leading his regiment in an assault when one bullet nipped his upper arm and another ruined his calmly put on his first aid bandage himself. Then he continued forward.

While units of all services participated in the various stages of the Rendova occupation, the actual storming and fighting was the army's show.

Lieut. Satterthwaite's wife, Janice, recalled here today of two other instances when her husband narrowly escaped with his life—once

Late Bulletins

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The house refused to budget today in its stand for abolition of the government crop insurance program, and put squarely up to the senate the proposition of backing down from its insistence on the program or tying up a deficiency appropriation bill.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—An American naval task force bombarded the Japanese base on Kiska island last night, the Navy announced today. In an attack apparently coordinated with the United States offensive against Japanese defenses in the South Pacific.

The communique also bore the assuring news that American forces on Rendova island, seized at the outset of the new drive in the Central Solomons June 30, have been reinforced and that frantic efforts of the Japanese air force to checkmate the offensive by fresh raids on Australia, New Guinea and our Solomons holdings have been broken up.

Air Base Threatened

Defeat of the Japanese naval forces left imperiled the most immediate objective of the Solomon operations—the enemy air base of munda on New Georgia.

Above it, Balroko anchorage, main source of supply, had been battered by shells of United States warships in a bombardment from the Kula gulf the night before the naval battle. The U. S. destroyer Strong was lost during that action.

Below it, the reinforced American garrison on Rendova has been shelling it from five miles away. And on New Georgia American forces at Viru harbor are in a position to move overland, having consolidated positions there.

The fact Kula gulf is only 15 miles long and about eight miles across at its widest point made it obvious the battle was between limited and comparatively light sea armament.

In Washington, unofficial comment was that "the decisive naval action of the present offensive in the South Pacific apparently is still to be fought," with neither side as yet throwing in its battleships and aircraft carriers.

In air battles over the Solomons fighting ships, seven more Japanese planes were reported downed, bringing enemy losses there alone to 164. Eighteen raiders inflicted some damage yesterday on our Rendova positions but three were destroyed by ground defenses. The other four were bagged by planes over Kula gulf as they attempted to break up the bombing of the beached destroyer.

Twenty-seven enemy bombers with an escort of 21 Zeros tried a daylight raid on Darwin, Australia, cause planes were reported downed, bringing enemy losses there alone to 164. ### Kennedy And Ross Take Scout Posts

Scout Executive Robert Buck today announced the appointment of Ralph Kennedy, Leetonia, as assistant district scout commissioner and William Ross, Salem, neighborhood commissioner, by Edward Howell, northern district commissioner of the Columbiana County Boy Scout council.

Appointments were made in new organization in the county for effective handling of scouting. The East Liverpool district officials, named by J. E. Curry, southern district commissioner, are Don Burdick, assistant district commissioner and Charles Mean, Ralph George and Edward Burns as neighborhood commissioners.

The appointments have been confirmed by the executive board of the council, completing organization of the new county set-up, with the exception of the center district which includes East Palestine, Lisbon and Sallenville.

Dies In East Liverpool

EAST LIVERPOOL, July 7.—Funeral service will be held Thursday for Earl W. Lawrence, 61, retired insurance broker, who lived here 34 years.

1,200 MOMENTOUS DAYS

Congress will have been in continuous session for more than 1,200 days when its members leave Washington, probably this week, for a recess—not an adjournment.

The non-stop record began to pile up at the beginning of 1940 when the 76th congress elected in 1938 convened for its third session.

Its attention was focused on continuing and improving the New Deal. New Dealers and Democrats had heavy majorities in both houses; theirs still was a working coalition.

War had broken out in Europe, but congress was not unduly disturbed. France had the world's strongest army, and its Maginot line was impregnable. Germany had bitten off more than it could chew. Italy was not to be taken seriously. Japan, which could not defeat China, was a victim of militarism. In England, air raid wardens were getting the horse laugh, and drills to prepare the population for bombings were objected to as a waste of time.

Russia, which had made a strange alliance with Germany, was not to be taken seriously; its army was no good; it could not defeat Finland. The United States, though it had been warned about heavier national defense expenditures, was putting its main faith in its new neutrality act. There was considerable excitement because Great Britain was opening United States mail at Bermuda.

When a British cruiser removed German officers and men enroute home by way of Japan and Siberia, the Japanese government called it an "unfriendly act." Parlor conversation turned frequently to the "phony war" in Europe, and every school boy knew the intricacies of the underground fortifications that were to stop the Germans in their tracks until finally they would be licked hands down in a war of attrition they could not withstand.

By the following July the world situation had been turned upside down and inside out by the strength of Adolf Hitler's bid for military supremacy. France, the Low countries, Norway and the British balance of power were gone.

Instinctively, Americans knew they were destined for another great war, but through the summer and fall they were too engrossed in the affairs of a national election to think much about it. Mr. Roosevelt was running for a third term, which was unprecedented. Wars happened all the time.

The 77th congress, still with heavy Democratic-New Deal majorities in both houses, convened and remained in continuous session throughout its life. It had the responsibility of performing the legislative function in the preparation and conduct of war. The preoccupation with social legislation and reform that had characterized congress since 1933 vanished. The New Deal ceased to be a legislative responsibility and became the special cause of the fourth branch of government—the bureaucracy.

In November, 1942, when the 78th congress was elected—the first wartime election—the Democratic-New Deal majority vanished. Republicans almost won a majority in the house of representatives. They gained 10 seats in the senate. This is the congress now taking a recess. It is not the first time congressmen are leaving Washington since January, 1940, but it is the first recess that finds congress abreast of its tasks. It is the first recess that could have been an adjournment, if congressional leaders had wanted to wait on the chief executive's orders to reconvene.

No branch of the government has worked harder than congress during the war. While it gets no credit from its perennial critics for doing so, no branch of the government has done more to perpetuate a form of government in which the governing power is distributed among executive, legislative and judicial offices.

BOMBING SUCCESS ALREADY ESTABLISHED

The British, knowing exactly how much damage was done to their cities by the German air force when it held the initiative, need no photographs to confirm estimates of the damage their bombs are doing to Germany. They know.

While discussion of bombing continues as though its success was open to doubt, its importance as a major weapon in the war already is firmly established. The heavier raids that have been occurring during the last fortnight mark a climax, not an experiment.

At the expense of relatively few lives and without prohibitive cost in expended equipment, the combined air forces of the United States and Great Britain are losing on freely selected targets the equivalent of heavier artillery barrages day after day than ever were possible under conditions of warfare on fixed fronts.

They have done to certain German cities what the Germans spent whole divisions of soldiers and equipment trying to do in the attack on Stalingrad—reduced them to helplessness. They have done—and are continuing to do—more damage to Germany's war potential than even Russia's matchless resistance, which blunted only the weapons used against it and did not reach back of the weapons to destroy their source.

POLLING THE FRENCH

Chief characteristic of rival claims for the right to dominate the renaissance of French power in North Africa is the unsupported assertion that the majority of Frenchmen feel one way or another.

While Gen. De Gaulle seems to have a theoretical edge in this respect over Gen. Giraud and it seems probable that both may be victims of the American weakness for rushing in where diplomats fear to tread, there is one remedy that promises real relief.

The polling method of finding out public opinion is well established. Its accuracy in matters where there is preponderant sentiment for one side as against another is unquestioned. It has the further advantage of being based on a sampling technique that produces the answer without bothering more than a few thousand persons. In short, if the state department wants to find out which French general is favored by the French, themselves, a handful of poll takers dropped by parachute would be able to solve the question in a fortnight where Great Britain and the United States now have been working at it since the fall of France three years ago without success so far.

THE STARS SAY :

For Thursday, July 8

THIS APPEARS to be a day in which ideals, dreams, glamor and abilities born of emotional impulses and aspirations become manifest in the world of reality. It may be difficult, under such lofty impulses, to concentrate the energies and efforts on the workaday, when the fine creative faculties clamor for expression. This may disturb or aggravate elders, but the strategic use of personal charm or heightened magnetism may wear away all antagonisms. It is wise to conserve these delicate forces and faculties, lest they undermine life.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may enjoy a year in which the higher and finer phases of creative expression may clamor for constructive form in a world of reality rather than ideals. Beauty, charm, emotional as well as physical and psychical forces are under splendid impetus for accomplishment.

A child born on this day may be richly endowed with artistic, musical and intellectual abilities and be idealistic and perhaps psychic or mystical. Its personal charm and magnetism assure a delightful life.

A news item quotes H. G. Wells as saying: "Radio and television will take the place of the newspapers after the war." That is notoriously false. No one would want to sit in front of a radio listening to some commentator reading a 40 to 60 page Sunday paper to him.

Here is a cartoonist that suggests: "We should have had these swell munition jobs in peace time—when income taxes were less." Nothing much left now, considering all the taxes you pay, and the price of pork chops, if any.

Our memory goes back to the time when people stood aghast at the thought that "this is going to be near a billion dollar Congress. But that was in the good old days when the GOP reigned supreme.

It is said that a chocolate bar has been devised that remains solid in a temperature of 120 degrees. But when it's that hot few people, if any, want a chocolate bar.

The headlines in one of our exchanges say: "Part Time Work On The Farm." Does that mean the rest of the time sitting in the shade of an old apple tree?

Army Puts Typhus On The Spot

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

MANY STUDENTS of the history of disease were apprehensive when United States troops were sent to the African theater of war with a possibility of the invasion of the Balkans because the situation raised the spectre of one of the most vicious diseases that has ever afflicted mankind.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Most of my readers, I presume, have never heard of it. I confess that I have never seen a case and I doubt whether one out of one hundred of my professional friends have. It is typhus fever—not to be confused with typhoid fever—sometimes called spotted fever, jail fever, ship fever and army fever.

Its characteristics are that it appears when large groups of people are herded together and sanitary facilities break down. Or as in the case of our African army, when large numbers of men in close contact with a population which has low ideals or no ideals about sanitary care of the body.

Carried by Body Lice We have discovered that it is carried from person to person by the body louse. The louse infests the clothing of a person who either has typhus or is a carrier of the germ, sucks some of his blood, including the germ, and then moves on to an uninfected person and when it again begins to feed on the uninfected person, instills the germ into his blood.

While the disease has not appeared in this country, except in sporadic cases, for over a century, it is by no means a theoretical menace. After the last war the condition of the Balkans from the universal epidemic of typhus fever made them practically a dead country.

A United States Army commission under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Edgar Erskine Hume, of the Medical Corps of the Army, was sent to Serbia after the Armistice in 1918. At that time the only method of dealing with the epidemic was to delouse the person and clothing of every individual. The "Serbian barrel" in which the clothing were sterilized became a familiar sight in cities and along the roadways of the countries.

The epidemic was finally conquered in this way, but not until it had exacted an enormous mortality toll. Colonel Hume has recently told of this and other aspects of the work of the Medical Corps of the Army in a book called "Victories of Army Medicine" (published by J. B. Lippincott, Philadelphia, 1943).

But the use of a vaccine which was more or less problematical in its effectiveness was universally instituted and it is a great relief to be able to say by now that this vaccine appears to have been completely successful. The American military forces in North Africa have come through almost untouched by typhus fever, although the disease was rampant in the region which they invaded in 1942.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Worried Mother: My little girl, two years old, has just swallowed a real small safety pin. Do you think it will pass from her, or how long should I wait for an x-ray?

Answer: The chances are it will pass from her, but if it were my little girl I would hustle her to an x-ray pronto.

W. R.: Would an x-ray show definite sign of cancer, even in its early stage?

Answer: The x-ray is never definite in the diagnosis of cancer, except bone cancer.

W. C. F.: What is the meaning of the diagnosis, in a man 47 years of age, of paroxysmal tachycardia and hyperacidity and just how serious is it?

Answer: Paroxysmal tachycardia is a peculiar condition, probably nervous in origin, where there are spells when the heart suddenly begins to beat very fast. The heart rate returns to normal just as suddenly. It is not a sign of organic disease of the heart. Hyperacidity is a form of acid dyspepsia, also probably due to nerves and also not serious.

P. P.: What is the difference between the three following diseases: Syringomyelia, amyotrophic lateral sclerosis and progressive muscular atrophy?

Answer: They are all diseases of the spinal cord and in all of them muscular atrophy may be present. It would not do anybody who is not a doctor any good to discuss the difference between them.

H. P.: I have heard that the use of nose drops in the nose for treatment of the common cold is dangerous in that it will cause sinus trouble in later years. Is this true?

Answer: It is not impossible. There are some examples which would indicate that the drops sometimes carry the infection into the sinus.

E. S. R.: Is there any help or cure for chronic bronchitis?

Answer: Chronic bronchitis is, in most instances, secondary to an infection of the nose, such as a sinus infection. If the nose infection is cleared up, it may benefit the bronchitis a good deal. A warm, dry climate, such as Arizona or New Mexico, will benefit chronic bronchitis.

THAT MAN IS MINE by May Christie

CHAPTER THIRTY

"She's been wonderful, all the way through!" Julia said. "Ann's a heroine! Even if she is my sister, she's also one of the finest girls I ever knew. Oh, and there's something I want to clear up out of your mind. She never did think anything of Hank Bruger! She doesn't know about the rumored romance seen with him at Hialeah. She never goes she know that the jockey Hank bribed to pull Stingaree flatly denied there was any blonde involved in the bribery."

"Naturally I won't say anything," Jim replied.

"You know that Love-a-little, Ann is back in the domestic role?" continued Julia. "Her old man clamped down on her flirtations! And high time!"

"I heard she was back in Lexington to stay," he said, in a disinterested tone.

No one was present the first meeting between Jim and Ann.... But he was only allowed to remain for twenty minutes, that initial visit. Naturally, there was a certain awkwardness on his part, of which the patient was well aware. She was, Julia noticed uneasily, very quiet after Jim had gone to his hotel.

He arrived at visiting hours next afternoon. Again they were alone. He had brought Ann a great bunch of fragrant violets and placed them in a water glass by her bed.

"It's just as though the room were filled with Spring!" Ann told him softly, in her musical voice.

A pause followed. He cleared his throat. "I guess I have an apology to make to you, Ann. I did think you a sort of butterfly—keen on gambling and racing and that sort of thing—"

"And mixed up with Hank Bruger? But it wasn't true, Jim!" He told Julia he wouldn't say anything, but he knew it was right to speak now. "I followed you from the Hialeah clubhouse that afternoon we were all there.... after the horse had lost.... and I saw you under the grandstand.... with Hank Bruger...."

Ann said eagerly: "Listen, Jim. It was Hank who told me not to bet on Stingaree. I innocently tipped you off to that, remember?... But afterwards, in the paddock, when the race was over, and Mr. Willard was talking to the jockey, and everyone lamenting, I saw on Hank's face the queerest smile. Later, he even winked to the jockey! It made me awfully suspicious of foul play somewhere. So later, I left the clubhouse and trailed Hank to a spot under the grandstand. There I saw him slip an envelope to the jockey and say: 'Steve, you kept your end! Jim keeping mine!' As the jockey pocketed the envelope, he said: 'Thanks! Serves the old miser right! He never even gives me a bonus when I win for him!'"

"Why didn't you report that to Mr. Willard immediately?" Jim naturally inquired.

"I wanted to. I was first going to tell you, when I got back to the clubhouse. But you wouldn't let me speak to you, remember? I guess you thought I was in league with Hank when you saw me with him under the grandstand. A thought struck her. She faltered: "He terrified me. He told me: 'If you know what's healthy for you, you'll keep your mouth shut! Otherwise the gang'll take care of you!.... Wherever you go, wherever you hide, they will find you and get you! That's what he told me! Jim, I was so frightened I guess I half-fainted.... I remember he caught me in his arms.... was it then you saw me?"

"Yes. And the jockey collided with me as he ran from the grandstand," Jim explained.

Now at last she had a clear mental picture of what Jim had thought. Their misunderstanding. She said: "I would have told you, if you'd given me a chance! But there was more to Hank's threats, Jim. He said he'd ruin my reputation if I told what I'd seen and heard between him and the jockey.... He'd say—'her voice dropped—'I was his discarded sweetheart, and lying in order to get even with him!'"

Jim smothered an angry expression. And went on: "I acted very cowardly. I'm—sorry."

"Forget it," he soothed. "I don't blame you, Ann. You were on a nasty spot. But what you don't seem to know is that the track detectives got after Hank and the jockey, and there was a showdown, with Mr. Willard present. The jockey told all. I heard that Hank had double-crossed his gang.... that he only handed half the promised reward to the jockey.... and kept the rest for himself!"

He added quietly: "There was quite a piece about it in the papers. The jockey was suspended, of course. And Hank had to leave the State."

She asked hurriedly: "But my name wasn't mentioned in the papers? It couldn't be?"

He said truthfully: "No." He didn't add that a lovely blonde had been presumably involved. Nor was it necessary to tell her that the jockey had made denial of that.

There was a long pause. The small, white-washed hospital room was filled with the perfume of Jim's violets.

Then into the silence came his voice, gently: "I love you, Ann." Her heart leapt in ecstasy, but she managed to reply: "No, Jim, please! Not until the bandages are removed. You see, I may—look different. Her voice trembled.

"You won't, darling!" he said hoarsely, "but even if you do, it won't make any difference to me! Some poet wrote a very true verse which begins: 'That is not Love which alters when it alteration finds....'"

The sincerity of his tone, and the beauty of the words, brought a certain measure of relief to Ann.... but still she insisted that he must not say anything more until he saw her with the bandages off.

That day soon arrived. Julia brought Ann a hand-mirror.

She saw blotches on her face and neck. Her lovely complexion appeared to be gone.

"I look—terrible, Julia," she gasped brokenly.

The doctor assured her at once: "But the marks will heal up completely. I promise you that eventually you'll be exactly as before. There's no cause whatever to worry. Time is all that's needed."

Julia whispered: "Jim is waiting."

"Don't let him up. Or—tell him what I look like, Julia—and leave it to him to decide if he'll see me now," whispered Ann.

Ann was alone when she heard his knock at the door. She didn't answer. The lump in her throat threatened to be gone.

He entered. In two strides he was across the floor and had her in his arms. "Darling! My love!" He kissed her and held her as if he would never let her go.

"You mean it, Jim? It— isn't pity?" Tears welled in her beautiful eyes.

"I love you! I adore you! You're still beautiful! Even if you weren't,

Firestone

DeLuxe Champion Tires

are now being built with

American-Made Synthetic Rubber

In 1933, Firestone built the FIRST synthetic rubber airplane tires for our armed forces. In 1934, Firestone built its FIRST synthetic rubber passenger car tires. In 1940, Firestone FIRST went into production on synthetic rubber passenger car tires and began the manufacture of its own synthetic rubber, called Butaprene, the same type that was later adopted by the Government. And today Firestone is making synthetic rubber tires for passenger cars, trucks, buses, airplanes, tractors, farm implements and all types of war vehicles.

As a result of this leadership and experience, the Firestone DeLuxe Champion Tire, for mileage, strength and safety, upholds the Firestone tradition of "Best in Rubber, Synthetic or Natural."

Congress, Treasury Seek Special Tax For War Incomes

WASHINGTON, July 7—Congressional and treasury experts collaborated today in drafting a new tax formula whereby persons whose incomes have increased because of the war will pay a larger share of the war's costs.

Such a plan, if written into law, would apply to individual income; the principle of excess profits taxes as now applied against corporate income.

The house ways and means committee yesterday ordered the experts to study and report on the feasibility of such a tax, and at the same time announced it would begin consideration Sept. 8 "on a non-partisan basis" of a new general tax measure with new and higher levies.

Treasury experts and the committee's tax staff were asked to suggest "alternative means of raising additional revenue," including information on a sales tax, the so-called spending tax, compulsory savings and increased individual and corporate income taxes.

The committee, in its last tax meeting before congress takes a summer recess, also agreed finally that there would be no retroactive levies in the new general tax measure, saying "the main feature of the new tax bill will not become effective before January 1, 1944."

Committee Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) said "we realize the necessity of securing every dollar of taxes the economy of the country can carry," and added:

"People, with some exceptions of course, are receiving the largest salaries and the largest incomes in history, and at the same time the treasury is in greater need of revenue than at any time since our republic was founded."

However, he said, "we are not going to break anybody's back."

WOMEN IN THE SERVICE

Airplane And Ship Production Shows Gains During May

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 7—Production of planes and naval vessels reached new highs in May, the War Production board's monthly report showed today, but the over-all output of munitions remained unchanged from April.

WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson's report noted declines in ground ordnance, miscellaneous munitions and merchant vessels, which he described as a "very serious matter." The decline in merchant vessels was based on the value of work put in place in shipyards, however, and not on the basis of actual deliveries, which in May were the highest so far with nearly 1,800,000 dead-weight tons.

Of the four major programs, merchant ships led in the first six months of the year, with 44 per cent of the 1943 goal achieved. Army ordnance and the output of naval vessels and equipment were estimated at 40 per cent of the 1943 goals, and aircraft 35 per cent.

"We have reached a point now where gains in production will be won only through the most thoughtful and determined effort on the part of all concerned," Nelson said.

He called for the setting aside of personal and group interests "in the interests of all of us as much as it is humanly possible for we are on the verge of one of the greatest trials of our national history." Presumably referring to forthcoming military operations, he said:

"We cannot afford to relax our efforts for an instant. On the contrary, we must prepare ourselves to meet calmly and steadily the greatest strains to which we may ever be subjected."

The May production boxscore, as compared with April:

Total munitions, unchanged; aircraft and aircraft equipment, up 5 per cent; ground ordnance, down 3 per cent; navy and army vessels (value put in place, up 2 per cent; merchant vessels (value put in place), down 4 per cent; miscellaneous munitions, down 7 per cent.

Without disclosing figures, Nelson reported the "tendency continued to be toward production of heavier planes." "Heavier planes" would include four-engine bombers to carry the war to the enemy.

Cornell Collection Adds Thomas Beecher Sermons

ITHACA, N. Y.—A notable addition has been made to Cornell university's collection of regional history with the recent acquisition of more than 2,000 manuscript briefs of sermons of Thomas K. Beecher, half-brother of Henry Ward Beecher and Harriet Beecher Stowe.

A set of letters of Lyman Beecher, father of Thomas, and several Mark Twain letters are included in the group.

Thomas Beecher occupied the pulpit of the Park Presbyterian church in Elmira from 1851 to 1893, and was prominent in community life as well as a notably progressive churchman.

A set of Bramble family papers is another recent addition to the collection. Charles Bramble was the contractor who built the original building of Cook academy, which was founded in 159 as a people's college.

Historical letters of other famous people, various types of early account books and a general store daybook more than a century old also have been donated to the growing collection of regional background.

San Francisco has nearly 300 churches, representing more than 60 denominations.

War Brings Shortage Of China, Glassware To South Africans

(By United Press)

PRETORIA — Reports from all sections of the Union of South Africa indicate that crockery and glass shortages are becoming serious, particularly for elbow-benders.

Some Johannesburg hotels have already suspended "room-service" because they cannot spare the dishes. In Durban, one hotel is forced to serve beer in champagne glasses, while most of the other hotels in town are using jam tins or inviting customers to drink from the bottle.

In East London cups and saucers, even when they are cracked, are bringing high prices at auction sales. At one sale, cups without saucers, brought about $6.85 a dozen and 384 cups were disposed of at this price. The record price for a single cup and saucer—and not a Wedgwood model, either—was $1.10. For a tea-drinking country these prices are a catastrophe.

In Pretoria a customer was served beer in a glass flower vase. The answer is, of course, that the war has reduced shipping space for such "non-essentials" to such an extent that practically no glass or china articles are being imported. One Union glass factory is making half-pint beer mugs and these are about the only replacements obtainable. Some plastics factories are making cups and saucers but the orders are coming in faster than they can meet them.

Besides, government orders for military camps and hospitals have first priority.

The manager of one large Durban hotel claimed that during the last six months 108,000 glasses had been broken, which has exhausted almost his entire stock.

Russia maintained a colony on the California coast until 1841.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO HOME CANNERS

The Glass Top Seal Fruit Jar Cap for Home Canning was developed as a Wartime product to conserve metal. It consists of a Metal Band, Glass Lid and Rubber Ring.

Because of the difference in the nature of these three materials this Cap must be used differently from any other fruit jar cap. If used properly it will give excellent results. If not used properly, results will be bad, including failure to seal and breakage of jars. Following are simple instructions for use of the Glass Top Seal Cap and must be followed carefully.

1. Do NOT use in Oven Canning.
2. If processing, (cooking in jar), leave 1 inch space in top of jar. If using open kettle, leave ½ inch space in top of jar.
3. Fit rubber around projection on bottom side of lid.
4. Place lid so rubber lies between lid and top edge of jar.
5. Turn bands tight, then loosen slightly (about ¼ turn). Bands must fit loosely during processing (cooking). This is important and must be done to insure best results. If using Open Kettle, screw bands tight as soon as jar is filled.
6. After processing, screw bands tight to complete seal. Remove bands 12 hours after canning.

News and Views, Briefly On What's Going On In Capital

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, July 7 — President Roosevelt's price rollback program, battered every step of the way, bumped into another barrier today just when it seemed headed for better treatment.

The house ducked the issue last week, refusing to override a veto of the President's on a bill extending the life of the Commodity Credit Corporation. This measure included a prohibition of government subsidies designed to compensate processors for retail price cuts.

The senate, source of the anti-subsidy feeling, backtracked for a few days, then met the challenge yesterday. After a series of preliminary sparring rounds, the senate again voted to continue the harassed CCC with a provision banning subsidies. The vote was 38 to 28.

The situation on subsidies dashed cold water on the hopes of lawmakers for recessing congress for the summer by nightfall.

The house also held the key to the status of federal crop insurance, which this branch once voted to outlaw. The senate decided to continue the plan for another year by writing it into the $366,000,000 deficiency appropriations measure.

The deficiency bill was one of the last money measures to be acted on by the congress before it takes up next fall consideration of new tax legislation. Ways and means committee leaders, searching around for more revenue, joined yesterday with treasury experts in a study of a formula that would increase levies on persons who earned more recently because of the war.

Away from Capitol Hill, top attention was commanded by the War production board (WPB) which disclosed that plane and navy vessel production hit new highs in May but the over-all production of munitions was unchanged from April.

The War Today By DeWitt MacKenzie

will hold out and participate with the other Allies in victory. At the same time we shall be starry-eyed indeed if we don't see that he must be banking on Allied aid to turn the trick.

The thing the United Nations have to worry about is whether they can make their help effective soon enough to save China from collapse.

GENERALISSIMO Chiang today issued an appeal to the United Nations to strike in force at Japan immediately because he feels this is the opportune moment "to reap great results" in reducing the time of final victory. He declares. Nippon now "is at her weakest as her ready resources are approaching a point of exhaustion."

Gen. Ho Ying-Chin, Chinese war minister, also estimates that Japan has suffered 3,000,000 casualties and says she is facing an acute manpower shortage. He further asserts that Nippon is far weaker in sea strength, has not more than 3,000 first line warplanes and has been surpassed by the Allies in the air, and has difficult materiel and food problems.

As though to emphasize the statements of the great Chiang and his war minister, we get the report of another American naval triumph over the Japs in the Solomons. Meager details indicate that, as Secretary of the Navy Knox put it, "the Japs have taken another damned good licking." Apparently we have torn a further great hole in the fleet which represent much of Japan's strength in the Pacific.

All this is encouraging to the Allies, but the fact remains that we have before us a titanic job of blasting the Japs out of their hold on China and other occupied countries.

The line is so finely drawn that anything which causes great delay in the execution of our plans might produce a disaster. Complacency here at home might easily do it.

Navy School Seems Like Playhouse For War Games

BY WILLIAM H. ADAMS United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON — In an abandoned automobile service station on H Street in Washington is what seems to be pin-ball player's paradise, an adult's playhouse for war games and an airplane parts and material shop where all the props are make-believe.

Actually, it is none of these things. It is the home of the Navy's synthetic training devices, where pilots and gunners are schooled so that when they take the air they will be ready for it.

It is designed to save lives and time and aircraft, and the Navy believes it is achieving its purpose. The three-story structure houses everything that goes into an airplane. Here student pilots and gunners can shoot, BB-shot through machine guns at pasteboard models of enemy planes, or they can climb into a training turret and hear the sound of motors through earphones, look through a make-believe telescopic sight and see images of attacking planes lunge toward them from every angle.

Can Play Records

A pilot also can listen to records that are actual reproductions of conversations between military pilots and commercial airline control tower operators. These conversations are essential in flying certain commercial radio beams in wartime, and is becoming familiar with the language fliers use when conversing with civil airways ground crews.

If the flier wants to know how such conversations are carried on at sea he can learn the bugle, bell, siren and boatswain's calls, thus conditioning himself to react instinctively when on shipboard, where so many calls in wartime are emergency messages. Better yet, if the pilot would like knowing beforehand how his enemy will look, he can use the stereoscopic range estimator, which came right out of the grandmother's parlor.

This gadget shows color film slides of U. S. and enemy aircraft in three-dimensional aspect, at various ranges and altitudes.

A more thrilling version of this machine is the aerial gunnery training card, 8x5-inch placards showing enemy airplanes in attack positions. The path and speed of the gunner's plane and the speed of the enemy plane are given, and the students does some lightning arithmetic, grips a make-believe machine-gun handle and lets fly. A solid line shows the path of the bullet, and a dotted line shows the path of the attacking plane. It doesn't take long for a man exposed to this sort of training to eliminate the reasons for his faulty aiming.

The latest thing in simulated machine-gun operation is provided by the BB machine-gun installations, which are made of non-critical material and shoot BBs or plastic pellets, spotlight mounted on the gun makes the shot shine like tracer fire. The gun requires a 110-volt circuit and shoots 250 rounds a minute at a muzzle velocity of 200 feet per second. A clapper nearby convinces the gunner that he has his hands wrapped around the stock of a real machine gun. An air machine uses 175 pounds of air pressure and achieves a muzzle velocity of 600 feet per second, firing from 400 to 600 rounds a minute.

Navigation instruction by other ingenious devices, and instruction in night flying are also provided at the school.

Deductions from pay checks for income taxes are not as tough as they sound

If you're worried about this "20% withholding tax," take a look at the figures . . . and see how little the withholding tax affects you. From these tables, you can learn for yourself that these deductions, in most cases, amount to just about the same as you are probably now saving, to meet income taxes when due.

And remember, the most important fact — the withholding tax is NOT a new tax — it's merely a partial payment plan of collecting taxes as incomes are earned — to make it easier for all of us, in the long run.

Here are the tables for typical incomes from $17.50 to $95.00 a week. Find the one that applies to your own conditions, and figure it out for yourself.

You Can Still BUY WAR BONDS!

If you've used the tables correctly, you've found out that the pay-as-you-go method leaves you just as much of your income as you had before—with the advantage that your income tax is practically paid in full. If you lose your job, you'll owe nothing on your current income. And if you should die, or be injured so that you can't work—your family will have no 1943 income tax payments to worry about.

This being the case—you should be able to continue to buy War Bonds at the same rate you are now buying—through the Pay Roll Savings Plan. With many families having combined incomes far higher than at any previous time — they should be able to invest a large part of this income in War Bonds. Thus you will help to finance the great invasion that lies ahead—to provide the materials our fighting men must have—and to save up for yourself reserve money that will buy much more in the years to come.

So—be patriotic, be smart, and be thrifty — and buy MORE War Bonds.

Scotts And Bliss Win Class A Games Tuesday Night

BLANK GOLD BARS 12-0 AS FURNACES LOSE BY 4-2 SCORE

Sheens Beat A. C.'s And Slovaks Drop Metzgers In Class B Tussles

Scotts shut out the Gold Bars, 12 to 0, and Bliss topped the Electric Furnace nine, 4-2, in the opening games of this week's Class A softball league schedule last evening at Centennial park.

Class B tussles saw Sheens edge the East End A. C.'s 2 to 1 and the Slovaks beat the Metzgers 5 to 3. The Scott batters collected nine hits from Sheppard to run up their 12-run tally, while Francis Lanney, Scott moundsman, limited the opposition to four hits and no runs. Several errors were charged against the losers.

The Electric Furnaces scored two runs in the last two innings but fell short of tying or bettering the four runs the Bliss nine registered in the fourth. The Bliss collected eight hits and the Furnace five.

Tomorrow night the Bombers and Gold Bars will clash in the first game, instead of the second. Demings and Recreations are pitted last.

It's Just A Waste Of Time To Worry About The Yanks

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Next to trying to find a good steak, the biggest waste of time a baseball fan can indulge in is worrying about the New York Yankees.

The American league champions went west a week ago and lost four games in a row. They nearly skidded out of first place and they caused some hasty comments to the effect that maybe the McCarthy men weren't miracle men after all.

By way of proving that they were only fooling, the champs won three games in the last two days and suddenly zoomed back to a three-game lead. They whacked out a 5-4 decision over the St. Louis Browns last night to give Maris Russo, the sore-armed southpaw, his first victory of the season.

The Yankees' return to control of the league lead has been helped by the slump of the second place Washington Senators, who dropped a 16-inning 4-3 game to the Detroit Tigers yesterday.

After tying the score at two-all on Bob Johnson's homer in the fourth, the Senators battled 11 scoreless innings and took the lead with a run in the top half of the 16th. Then they gave the game away in the Tigers' turn at bat as Gerry Priddy let in one run on an error and Relief Pitcher Ray Scarborough forced in the other with two walks. Milo Candini escaped the defeat, being removed for a pinch-hitter in the ninth.

Lefty Al Smith of the Cleveland Indians shut out the Philadelphia Athletics 2-0 on four hits and the St. Louis Cardinals boosted their national league lead back to four games by blanking the Philadelphia Phillies 4-0 on three-hit hurling by Harry Gumbert.

Meanwhile the Brooklyn Dodgers were humbled 9-4 by the Chicago Cubs, who acquired their first triumph of the year in Ebbets field. In the day's only other game the Boston Braves nosed out the Cincinnati Reds 1-0.

REDS STILL SEEK THAT BOSTON WIN

BOSTON, July 7.—Still wondering what it's like to win a baseball game in Boston during the current season, the Cincinnati Reds take to the field against the Braves for a doubleheader today.

On their first visit to Beantown in mid-May the Reds lost a series of three. Yesterday they dropped a nip and tuck pitchers battle 1 to 0.

Lefty Al Javery, Boston right-hander, who was shelled from the mound last Saturday in the first round against the Pittsburgh Pirates, turned in an all-around performance in whitewashing the Reds and besting Ray Starr.

Besides scattering six hits, he singled in the only run of the game in the second after Clyde Klutznig doubled.

SKIP-BOMBING DEMONSTRATION

REAL ESTATE

HERE IS A PROPERTY THAT MUST BE SOLD AND WE CAN GIVE YOU IMMEDIATE POSSESSION

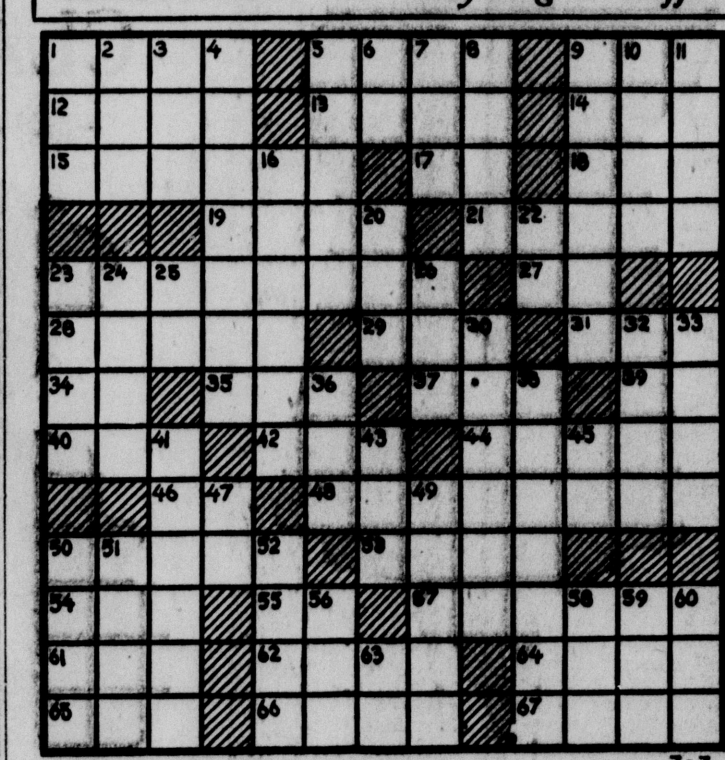

This five-room house is strictly modern with furnace, bath and electric. This is one of the best-built houses in Salem and the basement wall is made of stone. It is under slate roof and has very good tight siding. This house has been newly decorated throughout. It will not be necessary for you to do any house cleaning if you buy this house, as it has been cleaned from cellar to attic; all you need to do is to move in and place your furniture. Has a nice large lot with a large garden space. Is priced for quick action at only $5,500

Keep in mind that this is close to the shops and if you are working over-time you can walk home to lunch. See me at once for more particulars.

Poultry Ceilings Increase Proposed

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 7. — The senate small business committee recommended today that the average national farm price ceiling on poultry be increased from 28 1/2 cents a pound to 30 cents. It suggested that the armed forces requisition at the ceiling price any poultry found in black markets.
Existing OPA regulations covering poultry are inadequate to maintain a normal flow of poultry from producer to consumer, the committee said in recommending.
That ceiling prices be established for hatching eggs and baby chicks, with production costs calculated to include feed costs.
That ceilings be placed at each level of operations to allow a reasonable profit for each function.
That allowance be made to truck handlers for shrinkage.
That present price differentials for quick-frozen eviscerated poultry be reviewed.
That the industry put into effect voluntary systems of transportation control and pooling.
The committee said the armed forces have been unable to get adequate poultry supplies and contended that in requisitioning from black market dealers at the ceiling, those who lost money would be "properly penalized."

Got 7 Nazi Planes

Road Fund Payment Made

COLUMBUS, July 7. — The War department has made a final payment of $41,000 to Ohio for reconstruction of roads in the Muskingum watershed conservancy district. Highway Director Hal Sours said today.
The payment brings to $2,753,902 the amount Uncle Sam has paid Ohio to cover road reconstruction in the federal flood control district. The money is frozen until highway work may be undertaken in that area, Sours said. War restrictions now limit road constructions.

Friends may call from 7 to 8 p. m. this evening at the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home.

The son of George and Cora McCommons, he was born in Altoona, May 18, 1901, and had lived in Salem for the past year. He was employed at the Salem Concrete and Supply Co.
Surviving are his wife, Emma; one son, Ellis; two sisters, Mrs. Charles Harper, Cleveland; Mrs. Max Wimmer, Altoona; three brothers, John and Fred of Altoona and Sgt. Charles McCommons, now in Africa.

Prisoner Shot During Lakewood Auto Chase

CLEVELAND, July 7. — Ralph Inescho, 20-year-old Mansfield reformatory escapee, was captured today after police of suburban Lakewood fired nearly a score of bullets in a 30-minute automobile chase.
Inescho and another fugitive, 22-year-old John Mullen, fled after their car crashed into a utility pole but Inescho was found lying wounded in a nearby field.
The pair escaped from the reformatory July 1, Patrolman Frank Seille said.

RUSSIA TELLS OF NAZI GAINS

Reds Acknowledge German Push: Tell of Heavy Enemy Losses

(By Associated Press)
MOSCOW, July 7. — The German army has paid a terrific toll in tanks and manpower as the price for the "insignificant gains" achieved in two days of bitter fighting in the 1943 summer offensive on the Orel-Kursk-Belgorod front, the Russians said today.
While acknowledging the loss of two unidentified towns near Belgorod at the southernmost end of the revitalized 165-mile front, the Red army announced last night that in two days its artillery had smashed 1,271 enemy tanks and shot down 314 planes while the German loss in dead exceeded 10,000.
Advices from the front indicated the German high command was sending wave after wave of armored units and infantry against the strongly defended Soviet positions, making no appreciable headway.
(The Soviet monitor in London reported that the customary Russian daily communiqué was not broadcast today.)
The attacks all along the front were strongly supported by the German air force and the Russians said they believed large forces of German planes had been shifted from western European bases for the drive.
The Russian midnight communiqué reported the destruction of 11 German planes and said 22 pilots had been captured. One of the prisoners was said to have told army officers that he was a member of the seventh detachment of the first squadron of dive bombers and had been based in Yugoslavia prior to the start of the new German offensive.
The Russians said that despite the heavy reinforcements to the German air forces the enemy had failed to achieve air superiority and that in one sector alone 45 planes were downed.

SENATE AND F. D. R. ON WARPATH AGAIN

In Dramatic About Face, Solons Vote Ban On Roll-Back Plan

the subsidy rollback to $175,000,000 for the next six months and up to $350,000,000 for the reconstruction finance corporation.
2. Reconsidered the vote, 33 to 32, on motion of Senator Shipstead (R-Minn).
3. Voted 31 to 33 to reject the restricted subsidy authorization.
4. Rejected, 29 to 36, the bill extending the life of CCC.
5. Defeated a motion by Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) to table a motion by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) to reconsider the vote rejecting the CCC bill.
6. Repudiated step number four by voice on appeal of Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky) and thus brought the bill up for reconsideration again.
7. Approved 36 to 28 an amendment to the CCC-controlling bill to prohibit any government agency from paying subsidies to push down retail prices.
8. Approved by voice vote the measure to keep CCC alive until Jan. 1, 1944, while the anti-rollback provision included in the bill.
A subsidy prohibition restricted only to CCC was offered by Dan-

Frank Craven, Bobby Readick and William Gargan in a scene from their latest picture, thrilling inside look into the racing game, "Harrigan's Kid."

Bobby Readick makes his screen debut in "Harrigan's Kid," which is billed at the State Wednesday only, as a young jockey, misled by crooks, who finds regeneration in a new conception of clean sportsmanship. Players include Frank Craven, as the kindly trainer who works the boy's reformation and William Gargan, who teaches the boy all he knows about racing.
"Bataan," story of the last battle stand of American heroes in a Philippine jungle, will be at the State Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Robert Taylor heads the cast. The locale is a fever-infested steaming tropical jungle. The blowing up of a bridge, mopping-up operations with hand grenades and other thrilling battle action keeps the picture constantly at high speed.

Newsprint Restrictions Draw Legislator's Ire

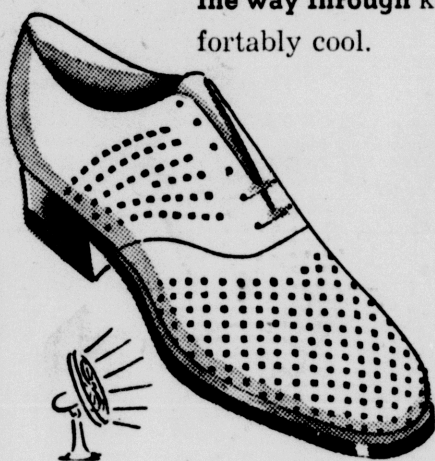

WASHINGTON, July 7. — Rep. Maas (R-Minn) disclosed today he intends to try to back up with restrictive legislation his assertions that the War Production board threatened "the freedom of the press" by its handling of newsprint quotas.
Maas told the house yesterday that WPB, which has ordered a new reduction in newsprint for the present quarter ranging up to five percent for the larger newspapers, was:
1—Using control of production "for censorship."
2—Favoring some publishers over others.
3—Operating with no rules or standards, and "in star chamber proceedings," issuing "secret orders from which there is no appeal."

Awarded $71,199 Damages

CLEVELAND, July 7. — Federal Judge Emerich B. Freed late yesterday awarded $71,199.81 to the Kelley Island Lime & Transport Co., for the sinking of a sand barge in the Cuyahoga river in 1939.
The Kelley Co. charged the city had dismantled a bridge, parts of which fell into the river, causing obstructions which the barge struck.
The barge was enlarged to include all government agencies in an amendment by Senator Tydings (D-Md) who appealed for defiance of a presidential veto.
"The administration has advocated congress changing its mind," he told the senate in reference to overwhelming votes by both houses for previous anti-subsidy legislation. "I advocate the President changing his mind."
